NOTICE.

We are prepared to nurchase and make liberal advances on all the substantial mining RICK & PRIERS.

The State Prison bill will come up to-day in the House. This will be the grand finale of the affair, and a somewhat animated time is expected. Already the debate has been lively in regard to the mere time of the consideration, and when the measure itself is presented then something unusual must occur. Several members have prepared speeches for the occasion, and these will be given with as much eclat as possible. Both sides are seemingly confident of success, but the vote may ve very different from what is commonly expected.

A bill was introduced in the Senate yesterday, by Stewart, relative to wife beaters. By the provisions of the same the guilty one is to be exposed at some public place in the county seat of his county, and on his breast is to be placed a placard indicating the crime of which he is accused. For a second offense imprisonment in the county jail is the pen-dollar is the amount to each share. Senator Garrard's little son is sick with the diphtheria. The illness is not considered dangerous.

The Funeral Wm. Patterson.

The funeral of Ex-District Attorney, Wm. Patterson, tooksplace on Sunday, and was attended by a large number of the friends of the deceased. The Pioneers, Odd Fellows, Good Templars, Mexican Veterans and others were in attendance, and the procession was the largest which has been seen for some time in Carson. The remains were escorted to the Methodist church, where the religious exercises were conducted by the Pastor, Rev. J. D. Hammond. The sermon on the occasion was one eminently appropriate, and as it was highly appreciated by the vast audience in attendance, we have epitomized it as follows: Mr. Hammond, after taking for his text the words "He that ruleth his own spirit is betaccustomed to call death, is full of we consider the merely physical fact dollars. or the changed relations which grow out of the same. No mother ever looked upon the dead face of her first born with calm resignation. When a brave, full grown man is taken away in the very flood tide of his usefulness, none can hope fully to solve | twenty stamp mill at least two years. the problem presented.

At the request of the deceased and somewhat against my usual custom, occasion warrants. Scripture, philusophy and science have done much | turns to the stockholders. to lighten up the strange night of the grave, and yet the sudden blotting out of a human life with all its wondrous potencies must ever remain the most profound mystery of the earth. Yet death holding fast his terrible secret is not altogether ungrateful. The dead are ever embalmed, while the holiest ministries of life have their birth in dusty graves. The little child and the brave man alike being dead, yet speak in sweeter and stronger tones than any earth may know. What then, is the lesson before us to-day? Listen, and the dead lips before us shall speak most eloquently both of the shame and glory of human life. The very essence of human character lies in the will. Once the will is destroyed, and the man is gone. When a royal nature shall cast aside crown and kingly robe but to assume the ragman's garb and hook, fondly remembering a former life, yet unable to leave the gutter, ah! then can human degredation go no farther. And yet this man-I speak plainly as I know he would speakfor years like Job and Pashur of old, abhorred and became a terror to himself, so completely broken was the influence of society and friends and home for right. Enough of this. If his was the shame, so also human life. Pompey beasted that the child to entire conciousness. the stamp of his foot should bring and again falls into the former state an army from the earth. Napoleon was the inspiration of the Old Guard and the idol of his time, but the "spirit ruler" is ever better than the "city taker."

He fighteth best who fights alone. How many a battle has this man fought with the demon of his life, single handed, silent, alone, yet ever victorious? Let the years of his later life make answer. Surely there is a "glory and houor" in humanity far transcending the brightness of an untempted nature-the glory of self-conquest. I have heard this man and others tell of the trials of pioneer life. I have heard him speak of the difficulty and danger of a campaign in a foreign land, and I fully appreciate the strength of character which will urge a man through all these; but I speak truthfully when I say that not for his pioneer spirit, not for his campaign in sunny Mexico, will this man be best remembered by his many friends; but for that fierce, heroic battle, so nobly fought, so valiantly won, within the realm of his own spirit. Yet he was ever afraid that he might fall agein. It was at once the tenor and strength of his later life. Your braggart is never heroic; yet here is a man courageously struggling, one who, like the advancing tide, stopped not till the goal was won.

"I walk as one but yesterday delivered From a sharp clain; Who trembles lest the bonds so newly severed Be bound again.

This earth has lost its power to drag me downward, It spell is gone: My course is now right upward and right onward. To yonder throne."

Colonel Moore does not back down in his statement in reference to a bribe being offered to one of the members relative to his course on the State Prison bill, but says that the one hundred dollars was not offered by any one connected with the government of the State. Just what the name of this bribe offerer is, the Col. has not yet made known.

Yesterday the House did not adjourn until after two o'clock. Every motion to take a recess was promptly voted down by Babcock and others, and a hungrier set of legislators is seldom seen. It was a job put up against the hotel keepers, and it was successful in the end.

The annual meeting of the Belcher Company will occur to-day in San Francisco.

LADY BRYAN MINE.

Recent dispatches from San Francisco announce the fact that the receivers appointed December 29th ult. to take charge of the affairs of this Company have been dismissed and the books of the company returned to the officers of the Company. The newly elected Board of Trustees are men of wealth and standing and experience in mining matters and they give assurance of a more effective and economical management in the future than has obtained in the past.

About two weeks ago a member of one of our most respected families was taken sick, and a four ounce bottle of Bourbon whiskey was procured at a drug store for medicine. The bottle containing the whiskey was put upon a shelf in a closet, as it was supposed, out of the reach of the children. On Wednesday morning a little five-year-old son happened to get hold of the bottle of whiskey. He tasted the liquid, and thinking it was good, gave it to his three-year-old brother to taste also. The latter drank a considerable portion of the stuff. A short time afterward the mother noticed that her youngest son was drowsy, and put bim to bed. She soon afterward went to the bed and found that he was paralyzed, being unable either to speak or move. A physician was sent for, who quickly divined the cause of the sickness. He administered antidotes but as yet without success in bringof lethargy.-Troy Press.

There was a lady on the streets of the city yesterday soliciting signatures to a petition to the Legislature now in session for the passage of a law prohibiting a man's wages from being attached for a saloon bill of over $5. Some passed her by without even a word, while very many of the better classes stopped and affixed their names. We believe the move a good one, especially in case the debtor is a married man and has a family. The money he earns should go first to their support, and then if he has any left to pay saloon bills with let him use it for that purpose. If the result should be that fewer saloon bills would be contracted after the bill passed, those of us who could not stand it should quit the business .- Enterprise, 28th.

The London Lancet, a high medical authority, contains an article from the pen of Dr. Henry Pigeon, an eminent English physician, in which it is stated that sulphur is almost a specific for scarlet fever. Dr. Pigeon says he anoints the patient twice daily with sulphur ointment, gives from five to ten grains of sulphur in a little jam three times a day, and burns sulphur in the room of the patient twice daily. He says he has given this treatment extended trial for over two years, and that under it not one of his patients were more than eight days in making a complete recovery, although the cases were well marked. the surface skin on the arms coming away like the skin of a snake.

AT a party on West Hill the other evening a number of young men presented one of the party, who was very obnoxious to them, with a tin jackass, with an appropriate presentation address. But the mean man got the drop on them by accepting it gracefully, saying that he would always keep it, and never part with it, and as often as he looked at it, it could not fail to remind him of its donors. And then somehow or other, it seemed to the young men that the presentation had gone off kind of tame, after all .- Burlington Hawkeye.
